"...profoundly moving...utterly compelling"

'Journey of Asylum - Waiting' weaves the lived experiences of asylum seekers, now residing in Melbourne, into a dynamic and poetic performance. Asylum seekers share their struggles, uncertainties and realisations as people "waiting" in the immigration process. Experiences of fear, sleeplessness and isolation mix with dignity, resilience and humour and the hope for a "normal life". Freedom of speech and self expression are our democratic rights; for most asylum seekers this is simply a dream they hope will come true.

This performance has been made possible by the valued funding of the Australia Council for the Arts, the City of Melbourne and Freehills, Solicitors.
